SUBJECT: Weekly Activity Report #27

1. In-Basket Problem

[redacted] reports that Colonel White has expressed some interest in a possible seminar for senior support officers. She asked for a sample "in-basket" problem that might be used in such a seminar. A problem on travel designed for her purposes was sent to her 5 July. Meanwhile, we understand that [redacted] is considering the use of the "in-basket" approach to some of the administrative materials presented in her budget and ops support courses.

On 6 July [redacted] discussed plans for future Instructional Techniques Courses for language instructors. In view of the unique needs of language instructors, they mutually agreed on some modifications of the initial ITC for LAS, including the addition of a few new topics or subjects. [redacted] also conferred with [redacted] relative to the material on evaluation for future ITC's.

3. Reserve Officer Training

[redacted] called 6 July for information concerning the cancellation of reserve officer training [redacted]. He wanted the information in order to brief Colonel White. The latter has received a "protest" from Robert Amory, Jr., who commands the CIA Army Reserve Unit, in connection with the cancellation of the courses. [redacted] said he did not know how strong Mr. Amory's protest is or how far he is likely to pursue it.
